WANTED—THE PERMANENT BEMOVAL OF SUPERIFLUUIS HARR BY ELECTROLIVES BY DR. LYSES BY DR. LYAN BYCK, DERMANENT WASHINGTON, U. C.

Superfluous Hair.—Superfluous hair is an amentural sand excessive growth of hair on the femne face—is most conspicuous on the unper lip, chin, and cheeks, It also grows upon the arms, and from moles and birthmarks. This abnormal growth of hair on the requestly observed. We see it on the street, in the drawing room, and wherever indice congregate. Few persons have any idea of its prevalence, in hearty every massum of living curiosities a bearded woman figures as one of the chief attractions. It is difficult to estimate the number of ladies in private life who endeavor by artifice of various kinds to concest the unpleasant fact that they have or might have a beard, and were life secrets of the bondoir known we would be surprised at the number of our society halles who are saided and the contest and the property of the contest in their actions taking the hair off at the surface, the articles have resorted to the most barbarous method of forture to rid themselves of this sonoxious growth. Some use depilatories, which are caustic in their actions taking the hair off at the surface, requestly scarring the sain for life; others use tweezees or plaeter, which inaby met the solitons or range, all of which produce the same result, namely, that or only increasing the trouble. There are hundreds of lands in every large city who are really mentally and physically afficied with inta deformity.
